Gaming PC in excellent condition, along with a monitor, gaming mouse and keyboard, a microphone for voice chat and streaming, high-end Shure headphones, and excellent speakers. I will even throw in the desk if you want it.

I got the PC back in 2011 with a Radeon 2900X series graphics card, and it still runs great. I included all of the specs in the photos if you want to get into the details of what's inside, but it is able to handle big-budget AAA games of 2015-2016 capably well, but modern AAA titles released from 2017 afterwards (like Assassin's Creed, Fallout, and other massive open world games) do not run very well, and have big frame rate drops. It can still run games like League of Legends, CS:GO, Overwatch, and other competitive titles excellently, but I did feel like I needed to mention that your mileage may vary with any of the modern big AAA open-world games you might find on Steam.

Due to certain scams involving checks, I will only be accepting PayPal and cryptocurrency transactions. Too much of a risk of fraud using other methods, and it would make me feel
